Dear Ms. Julie Martin,

I hope you and your team of systems analysts can help.

Online Tutors, Inc. provides Online tutoring. Currently, families subscribe. A subscription allows them to download work sheets, watch educational videos, and receive 1 hour of tutoring per month. They can contract for additional tutoring.

Typically, a family subscribes because they want their children to receive enrichment classes that are not offered by their school. Some of the families are home schooling their children and want to add courses to the curriculum that are outside their area of expertise.

OnlineTutors Inc. screens and hires tutors, pays them for their tutoring sessions. Tutoring sessions are booked, scheduled and billed by OnlineTutors Inc. All tutoring sessions take place thru Zoom.

For example, the Banks family has scheduled a one hour French lesson for their two children, Sandy and Robin three times a week (Monday, Wednesday and Friday) with Madame Thérèse Defarge, one of our tutors who is a native French speaker.

The Murphy's have a weekly computer class for their son Bryan who is a high school student.

The tutors also prepare and submit worksheets, video, and other educational materials that are available at no additional cost to subscribers.

Everything I have described above is working well and business is growing.

Recently, several subscribers have told us that they would like to be able to login and find a tutor to help a child with a homework topic immediately. For instance, one family said that their 4th grader was trying to do long division and they didn't know how to help him. Being able to find a math tutor right then, on demand, would have been very helpful. This could be a very important income source, and we would like to add that capability to our existing system.

Sincerely,

Mary Montgomery
